

Does anyone try to build a beacon chain locally and connect to their own private geth nodes? I try to understand the working principle of beacon chain, but it seems very troublesome.