

I read this from @guy

- Although not every node runs every computation, ALL nodes replicate all state in the network. This is to prevent any data availability problems .

If all worker nodes in Enigma network have the same copy of all secret contracts and their secret state, what's the consensus algorithm of current release of Discovery without a blockchain between so many enclaves? How to deal with malicious node in the network?