

Thank you for great post, it is really interesting.

Builder cancellations can be used to temporarily allow searchers to cancel bundles sent to builders: this is particularly useful for CEX-DEX arbitrageurs, where opportunities available at the beginning of a 12-second slot might not be available by the end.

How exactly is cancellation beneficial in DEX-CEX-arbitrage?

I couldn't quite understand it, so I'd appreciate if you could explain in more detail about it.

Also, which dune dashboard you used for DEX-CEX arbitrage?
