

Hey,

I am the creator of Mevpanda and want to present the idea of better tracking mev-boost rewards.

Dashboard tracks not only what relays promised, but also ETH delivered to validators. Builder profitability tracking is also available with profitability calculation per builder pub-key (instead of extra data, which can be spoofed by anyone).

Stability

Website is currently under development so data updates might be slow from time to time, but it should be fully production ready in a week or so.

Feedback

Some new features are planned but I also take suggestions and feedback, so feel free to comment or create a Github issue in case of bugs.
