

As I attended a recent Twitter Spaces with OMGuild, it was clear there are a lot of fun, interesting, and creative ideas people have related to the Otherside but these people might not necessarily be familiar with the AIP process and the steps needed to be taken to to turn that idea into a proposal.

To rectify this, I wanted to create a thread where people can share their ideas, get feedback, collaborate, and materialize these ideas into official AIPs. Of course I'm happy to provide feedback, but I also think everyone can benefit from a central location where multiple people can provide feedback and bounce ideas off of each other.