

Hi!

I'm exploring the opportunity of using Noir for an experiment. I'm wondering if there is any available gadget containing the primitives to perform:

- a) symmetric key encryption (no particular preference for a specific scheme)
- b) asymmetric key encryption (no particular preference for a specific scheme)