

Secret Network Foundation is happy to announce our newest addition to our stellar Business Development team: Adam Funnell.

Adam is a passionate crypto enthusiast, and has spent the last few years leading business development teams in the web3 space. He most recently wrapped up his time at Accubits as the VP of Business Development and Sales where the team established an accelerator and helped construct a network of layer-one blockchain foundations.

He's been a keynote speaker at Zebu Live and Tech Circus and has most importantly developed crucial and strong relationships in the space.

Secret's tech and stage of growth piqued his interest and got him excited to find out if there was room for him to help our initiatives for 2024.

He'll be contracted part-time to help generate leads from his network for our Biz Dev team as well as help the Partnerships Team develop more dApp opportunities and VC contacts.

He is super friendly and ambitious and we're so excited to welcome him into our passionate and hard working community.

Please help us welcome Adam!
