

I bought into crypto at the peak of the last boom and basically lost most of the value but didn't sell any of the coins in case there was another boom. It looks like a lot of the alts I had are going up but ENG seems to be down. Based on some posts on reddit it looks like there was a swap to SCRT? Can someone please update me on what's been happening with ENG and whether it's too late to do the swap? Currently my ENG is in a nano ledger S.

Thanks in advance!