

Hello,

A question for Governance: Can our project be considered a DAO?

I understand that, although we do not have a smart contract in the middle, it is what is most assimilated. Still, it seems clear that many future projects will come out in the form of DAO.

If we release a new product, do you plan to release it this way?

what do you think

regards