

While I am a MAYC and would benefit from a staking pool that allows me to stake less competitively, I do not like the precedent this sets to investors.

I've heard a lot of people talk about it already but mostly I think we should do all we can to incentivize new money into the DAO. Simply put, I think the pool for $APE itself should be a lot larger than 30 million and if we as apes need to trim some off our pools then so be it, I think we should get that ball rolling.
