

I am still using google colab. the best way is reducing the computing needs, like change data type from double to int.