

1. Tends to be around 3-4pm UTC on most days, with the exception of Thursday where it is a lot later, usually after 9pm UTC. But having said that the last week or two it seems that the daily scores (leaderboard update) have been coming out later than this. Best way to keep on track of them is to get the numerai payouts app, its really useful for keeping track of scores, and it also sends you a notification when scores come out each day.

1. When you're paid at the end of the round its automatically restaked on the model. If you want to withdraw it from the model you can decrease your stake in the stake management menu. There's a 4 week lag in withdrawals though so you won't get the money instantly.
