

Hi all,

I've staked some coins and noticed that the cost to have transactions with the smart contract are fairly expensive.

Is this a product of the ERC20 design and there's nothing to be done?

Or is there a potential growth area to reduce to cost to interact?