

Definitely a great reminder, trust your CV indeed. Although I'd still keep an eye on risk because getting metals+high rank may also be a result of high variance models, which tend to do worse when regime changes