

I never use the “raw” data. I download it once a week, fill in NAs, convert to int8, cache locally, and then just use my cache. Rinse and repeat when the historical data is updated.