

Is there a way to prevent existing users to participate? Two straight-forward requirements I could think of: 1. eligible submissions need to be made from a newly created account 2. submissions need to be different to any existing model (different score at least)