

Hello All,

First time posting and new to having governance discussions. So please bear with me if this is not formatted correctly or vague sounding.

I am checking to see if it would be possible to make Aave accounts transferrable via some sort of NFT rollup mechanism.

An issue I have is that I am attempting to transfer my complete Aave position (collateral & debt) to a new wallet. I am aware of using InstaDapp, but from my understanding, you are not able to on Polygon.

Would it be possible of converting your Aave position into a NFT that would allow it to be transferable to other wallets? Then once received on the new wallet, redeeming the NFT which would create your same collateral/debt positions on the new address?

This would make the whole Aave UX more user friendly.

Again apologies if this is not the correct way of posting.

Thanks,
