

Hi team, it seems that limit orders is a feature that could benefit users a lot and, if I'm not wrong, it has been requested by some users in the past.

Since I'm not very familiar with the technical aspects of CoWSwap, I was wondering what are some of the technical challenges. Would it be technically feasible and what would be the time investment from the team to implement?