

That's because those are the values you are to predict, so they are not provided, i.e. using "training" to make a model, and predict "tournament" data. (Only the final era in there is actually used to score you though.)