

Hi, I'm Barney from Macrochain. We are a market research firm based in Vietnam. We have been long fascinated by EigenLayer's innovation. For instance, we have written an article briefing about EigenLayer's breakthrough to raise the awareness of our community. You guys can find it here.

According to a research conducted by Chainalysis, Vietnam led the world in crypto adoption in the previous year. That is to say, building a Vietnamese community for EigenLayer would benefit both parties since our community is eager to learn more about this project. We have been the partners of Solana and Starknet. Therefore, we can firmly say that we can build a quality community for EigenLayer (discord, telegram, twitter, website,...). Let us know your opinions in this topic.
