

Nice, excited to check it out!

Are there diagnostics on how the example model (INTEGRATION_TEST) performance changes with the new target (including feature exposure, max drawdown, etc.)? Or is that something we have to figure out ourselves?