

Hi,

I'm new and looking into investing in the token. I heard of you guys, did some basic reading, watched videos, looked up on social media, looked up the founder etc. So did the very basic research so far and the project looks really promising to me. I was actually stunned by the revenue numbers but found out that no revenue is shared by the stakers, I guess mostly to escape regulation and token is bought back with portions of the revenue instead, which is pretty cool.

So my question is, could you give some exact numbers? Exactly what percentage of revenue is used for buybacks?

Thank you so much.
