

I am struggling to understand how is the beacon chain going to be funded.

All of validators, attesters etc need to be paid. This needs to be done in real ETH.

Are they going to be paid by printing money ? In this case a fork of the main net will be required.

Or the funding will be done through some fee mechanism on the beacon chain?

I do not think the question of funding is addressed anywhere.