

As written, the staking proposal allows access to each given liquidity pool by only having one ape/mutant/dog, etc. So the NFT acts as a key to the staking pool, but this ostensibly disincentivizes holding more than one BAYC/MAYC, etc. IMO it's a mistake to disincentivize holding multiple apes. Otherwise, it seems likely that we'll have many OG holders that will start liquidating the NFTs in favor of $APE. Unfortunately, I don't believe many of us fully understood that prior to voting. If the AIPs pass as written, should we start considering an amendment?
