

I still feel numer.ai moving towards the wrong direction. Providing new mass data set raised bar to get data scientist participate in this game. We should suppose get game easier, and convenient, and attract more participants, which help increase the usage of NMR and its value.