

My vote is for Numerai to simply include a "round" column that has the integer round number where appropriate and N/A everywhere else. So many of us are trying to work with this mapping, we might as well get it straight from the source.