

Hello all. I'm wondering what our response is now that our market cap is trading at a discount to $MANA and $SAND. We all can see the data and stats but it seems as though we've lost control of the public narrative. Perhaps generate weekly 'talking points' that all of us can spread would be helpful. Rumor and gossip always fills communication gaps. Let's seize our narrative! Would welcome discussion.

I'm bad... I should have started off by thanking those doing great postings already on Twitter. Thanks for all you do!