

AWS and google are two known options - you can contact their support team and ask them about it and may be they can help you.

Contacting them is your best option otherwise maybe there is other option which provide exactly what you need - but you need to find that out. Your best option is twitter or facebook group.

tag like minded people their and they might be able to help you.

Sharp & Fellows, Inc.