

Technical Docs

This chapter is written to provide a detailed, technical explanation of the key changes implemented in Velocore V2. The contents of this document are intended to facilitate a thorough understanding of the development objectives and direction of the Velocore V2 upgrade, but they are not strictly essential for using the protocol.

This chapter's content may be added to or changed at any time, and such changes may occur until the audit process is complete.

If you have any questions or inquiries related to this chapter, please feel free to contact the Velocore team at any time.

Github repo <https://github.com/velocore/velocore-contracts>

Last updated 6 months ago On this page