

Constitution DAO has gathered some mindshare around a collective that came together to try and bid on a copy of the U.S. Constitution. One of the flaws was that the treasury value of the DAO was entirely transparent and that would allow any other bidder to know the max bid of the DAO and outbid them.

What type of construction would allow such a DAO to maintain a private treasury and participate in an auction?