

Can Aztec support private applications for DeFi, such as private exchange tokens or confidential licensing? What does that look like from a user perspective?