

Some of you may already have watched this lecture of prof. Nicholas Weaver of Berkeley (streamed on 2018.04.20) but I am just posting it here.

Lecture stream on YouTube

It seems important to understand and discuss the criticism of criptoconomics by apparently educated people.

I am not in complete agreement with many of the statements in this lecture as there are contradictions or emotions but it's worth to know how some people feel of crypto and public blockchain...