

One direction could be looking at changes per era in correlations of a feature with other features and the target.