

Any insights as to why a large number of validators have been down/jailed for a few months now?

As a delegator I'm particularly interested in Enigma as a validator?