

I am simply looking for a general discussion on how and why we should be more public and vocal about the benefit of 400 UNI for those around the world that may have dabbled in using Uniswap over the last two years.

For someone from a country with a low median annual wage, this could be a life-changing event.

I am interested in marketing this on a much broader scale ... TV Ads ... Radio ... NGOs that know the local cryptocurrency market ... DASH, they have done a lot in underserved nations ... and I'm also interested in being paid for my time to do so.

Thoughts?
