

SCRT Labs

SCRT Labs is the core development team behind Secret network. Founded and led by Guy Zyskind, MIT's Media Lab Alumn and a top 15 co-cited Blockchain research author. Starting from research at MIT in 2015 the team developed under the name Enigma-MPC and later re-branded to SCRT Labs. SCRT labs has a team of 10+ working mostly on the Secret network layer 1 and business opportunities for Secret Network. Secret network is an open source software, anyone can contribute together with SCRT labs via their github .

SCRT Labs focuses on development regarding implementation of Tendermint and the Cosmos SDK for the Secret network Layer 1, CosmWasm implementations and the Encryption/privacy structure of the Network. As a core development organization SCRT Labs also has opportunities for developers to get funding (SCRT Labs Grants ) and development issue help (Discord chat ). A list of SCRT Labs team members is available on the SCRT Labs website.
