

Hey Guys I was waiting for business development community Since I'm part of one of the apps that are building on the secret network (Alter). I feel that dapps in the network are the key to adoption and they need many resources to succeed besides funds. I recently heard that the person In charge of it just moved to new opportunities. I would be more than happy to fulfill the role. I have work in business development and marketing for some fortune 500 companies and now working with some DAO's I think this is pivotal for the network to grow and flourish so I would like to see it going.
