NFT API V2 vs. V3 Endpoint Differences

Detailed Endpoint Mappings

This section aims to provide a comprehensive and detailed mapping of the changes that have occurred in each endpoint between NFT API V2 and V3. For each endpoint, we will outline any changes in the method name, provide example requests in both V2 and V3, and present a mapping table that highlights the differences in the response structure (where applicable). Additionally, we will include examples of the V2 and V3 responses to help illustrate the changes.

getContractMetadata

Queries NFT high-level collection/contract information.

getFloorPrice

Returns the floor prices of a NFT collection by marketplace.

Overview of Changes

- In the V3 response, two new fields
- error
- · have been added for both
- openSea
- and
- looksRare
- objects, while all other fields remain the same as in V2.
- . In V3, there is an additional parameter
- collectionSlug
- . Currently, the API only allows for querying by exactly one of the two parameters
- contractAddress
- collectionSlug

Example Requests

V2 Example Request

Computes the rarity of each attribute of an NFT.

Overview of Changes in Response

- . In V3, the method now returns rarity data in an object
- rarities
- · rather than an array list.
- The
- trait type
- field is renamed to
- traitType
