How will pricing work for computations in a lotto based system? Will workers be able to set their own prices for computations? If so, how does this work in a lotto based system?

Let's say a customer wants 1 computation done for 5 cents. Will workers who have set prices above 5 cents for 1 computation be excluded from the lotto for that computation?