Hi!

I'm searching for instructions on trust levels and also on how to create a proper AIP. I thought I would find guidelines in the "Start here" category but the topics in there aren't useful at all for a new member.

Can we start using that category for guides and instructions around the discourse and the DAO?

That way newcomers can read through these topics and have a clearer understanding of how processes work around here.

Also if someone could post the link here to that one post about trust levels and what the requirements are and also a link to the AIP template, that would be very sweet. I seriously can't find them anymore…

Edit: The "Welcome to Apecoin DAO" post is helpful of course! It gets a bit lost between announcements though which caused my confusion.
