Abstract

This document proposes that a list of accepted Liquidity Positions starts to be compiled with the ultimate goal of including them as legitimate votable positions.

Motivation

DeFi is the life line of any chain. And forcing governance tokens to be held in spot is not only behind the times, but also weakens the durability of the token itself. We should encourage the deepening of the ARB token liquidity, but be selective on what is a valid position.

Rationale

- Positions that deepen liquidity but don't force the selling of the ARB token should be considered.

- Protocols that are both native and migrated should be considered.

- Track records of protocols need to be considered to avoid rug risk.

Steps to Implement

1. Compile the list

This list will need to grow with the development on the chain. So there needs to be adaptability as well as a team that will maintain this endeavour.

1. Solidify the voting venue

Without a certain voting venue, ie Snapshot, Tally, it becomes wasteful to implement the list if the venue were to change on a regular basis.

Timeline

This would certainly be ongoing.

Funding

Time spent by the team, should be compensated in some regards, but the amounts I leave open for discussion.
