Hello all,

This popped into my head last night so I thought I would try to get an answer on it.

If you have stkAAVE and hit the cooldown function, will the timer reset if more stkAAVE is added before cooldown has completed?

If it does, I could see this as a vulnerability as people could send microtransactions to other people's accounts to keep their stkAAVE there for extended periods of time. While I don't see this being a common practice, it could be exploited by malicious actors.

Anyways, Cheers!
