Uniswap is a cross era product. It has saved eth, but the current high gas of eth actually does great damage to uniswap. I suggest that uniswap should upgrade itself to be easier to deploy to different networks, not only EVM, but also any network. Moreover, each deployment does not need a cumbersome voting process. I believe that uniswap will quickly eat the DEX market in any network, Then improve their market share.