Hi guys!

I visited our discord call today. And one problem that I faced, namely my poor knowledge of English, gave me the idea that we could organize English lessons for DAO members. It would be possible to establish minimum requirements for the possibility of attending these classes. I'm sure there are many people among us who have great ideas or could be helpful on calls and voice their opinions on various issues, but don't do it because they don't know the language.

I don't know how much it costs, but if it's interesting, then we can discuss how best to do it and implement it.
