I have been working on two of these notebooks, on and off and also discussing it with others in the DS/ML community, here are my thoughts:

- Normalising a distribution

- Studying the limitations of stats measurements

It's early days but I hope you like them and can be part of these discussions. Any constructive feedback or comments will be highly appreciated.

- Normalising a distribution

- Studying the limitations of stats measurements

It's early days but I hope you like them and can be part of these discussions. Any constructive feedback or comments will be highly appreciated.