Hosting a weekly or bi-weekly AMA (Ask Me Anything) session on Discord or Twitter to introduce newcomers to ApecoinDAO could be a fantastic idea. These sessions could provide in-depth knowledge about Apecoin's governance structure, utility, and forum, giving participants a better understanding of how the platform works and how they can actively participate in it. By offering a platform for open dialogue and answering questions from the community, these AMAs can help improve the knowledge acquired by newcomers and build more confidence in Apecoin among its users. This initiative could foster a sense of transparency, trust, and engagement within the community, ultimately strengthening the bond between ApecoinDAO and its members.
