this is gameable and discourages new participation because as the number of submission increases, a model's corr with any other model is more likely to increase. More participants = lower payout but NOT necessarily that more stakes = lower payout.