Back in July, I tried to submit my usual CSV file prediction, but it was not accepted as usual.

It seems that a PKL (pickled Python program?) is now required.

Is there no longer a way to run my own models on my own machine, and submit the results in CSV format?