Firstly, salute to everyone who is still here!

The ApeCoin DAO is getting stronger and evolving rapidly with the participation of industry experts, OG Apes, kind-hearted members, and so on. It's already a big difference from the first day of establishment.

Thus, achieving transparency is essential to ensuring that its mission and vision align with stakeholder expectations. As we grow into larger groups, the need for tools to manage tasks and communication becomes increasingly important. Transparency not only helps build trust among stakeholders but also allows for a clear understanding of how the DAO operates in pursuit of its mission and vision. In this context, implementing effective task management tools can facilitate the coordination and collaboration required to maintain transparency and ensure that the DAO's activities remain in line with its overarching goals.

Furthermore, it is also critical to enforce that DAO-funded AIPs adopt the same method and tools that are transparent and responsible to voters.

So, it's open to discussing what transparency tools we can propose to the DAO and AIPs. How does it work?

For example:

Dework https://app.dework.xyz/

- Task management tool open to view for everyone, transparent operation

- Allows tasks to work openly or privately

- Excellent role management

- Able to offer tasks as bounty, encourage participation

- Progressive funding on AIPs, avoid bad-actor from draining the treasury
