What's up ape fam!!

I posted this idea in discord but wanted to create a thread here as well after listening to the community town hall today on twitter spaces.

I was curious to see if anyone had an idea to launch a derivative collection that could be minted in $APE and then have a percentage of the royalties flow back into the DAO. I was thinking a BAYC derivative collection would make the most sense and I think it could be amazing to highlight "official" BAYC derivatives, as in projects that are created by BAYC holders. It could also be a good source of income for the DAO and there's room for a lot of cool mechanics to be discovered IMO. Right now there are a lot of derivative collections out there, but very few of them actually own Bored Apes so I think it could be helpful for us to differentiate those as a community.

I'd love to partner with anyone who is interested in exploring the idea more. My girlfriend Meirav Haber and I have been minting hand drawn derivatives for over a year now through Bored Ape Not Club. We've been building the traits for a generative so it could be a unique time to partner with people since it's just the two of us on the team

Just putting the thought out there, we'd love to collab with some apes who are into our work. Including some early generative samples here to help give an idea of our work.

One of the good things about this idea is it would not require much funds at all to get this launched since Meirav and I are handling most of the work and wouldn't be taking a fee. The only up front costs I could see coming up would be for a developer and maybe an animator to put together an animation for the launch.

Would love to hear any thoughts or talk to any apes who are interested in exploring ideas!

Also wanted to include a link to our bios to give more information about Meirav and I BORED APE NOT CLUB

Thanks fam!
